

News Letter

Public Lecture in Grassroots Leadership

Under the frame of the TEMPUS Project: LAMANCHE: Leading and Managing Change in Higher Education Caucasus University will held public lecture in Grassroots Leadership on May 17, 2014. Lecture is designed for students, teachers and academics.

In this century education is taking an increasing importance than ever. Institutions are increasingly recognizing demand from different counterparts to be involved in management and administration of academic process. Beside administration involvement is needed from wider faculty and student bodies.

Public lecture will focus on these important issues and will actually discuss this with relevant counterparts.

Your presence will be highly appreciated.

For additional information and registration please contact Irena Melua: 2 377777 (129)